When Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Otis signed their family home at Logtown over to the Government as a part of the site of NASA's huge space engine and booster testing complex in Southwest Mississippi, they got some unexpected interest in what they thought was a routine event. Joe B. Graham, chief of the acquisition section, of the Army Engineers real estate project office at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, told them that their tract was the one thousandth conveyed to the Government for NASA's space mission. (Graham is shown at the right.)

Forty-one years ago Sidney Otis bought his home at Logtown, Mississippi, and until recently the couple have lived there ever since. The substantial frame dwelling has been optioned to the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers as the area is included in land required for NASA's test resident of Logtown and Mrs. Otis is a native of the Gainesville community.

Mr. Otis was employed for many years by the Western Lumber Company, and later worked for Higgins Industries, Inc. at New Orleans where he retired in 1961.

The retired but active couple plan to move to New Orleans to be near a daughter who resides there.

Mr. Otis stated that he was very well satisfied with the land purchase transaction.

The agreement was signed with Joe B. Graham, chief of the acquisition section, U. S. Army Corps of Engineers Real Estate Project Office at Bay St. Louis, Mississippi, witnessing for the Government.

The Corps of Engineers is NASA agent for real estate design and construction of space engine and booster testing complex in Southwest Mississippi.

The final outcome may not be known for some time yet.

Attorney Walter James Phillips, a former representative, was elected to the House of Representatives with 2,912. Incumbent Representative Clarence Ladner polled 2,549.

Bay St. Louis Mayor John A. Scaife was defeated in the race for the 43rd Senatorial District seat by James A. Rester.

While elections are, for the most part, serious business, they nevertheless, have their lighter sides. For instance, while the huge crowd was milling around the courthouse, Tuesday night, awaiting the returns, the Gainesville box was brought in. The candidate heard his name called and he received TWO votes while his opponent received thirty-one votes. He seemed thoughtful for a moment and then turning to a friend beside him, said, "I'm sure the Government is taking Gainesville out of the County."

Social Security

If you are one of the many people receiving a monthly social security check in this area, you no doubt look forward to its arrival the first week of each month. Jerome H. Drane, District Manager of Social Security in Gulfport, advises that most of the difficulties associated with the late arrival of checks could be avoided if beneficiaries would notify the Social Security Administration well in advance of any change in address.

Here's what you should do in case you change your address. Notify your social security district office just as soon as you know the new address. Remember this: you have to sign the notice of the change in your address and it must be reported under your social security claim number. Just your name is not enough. It's also a good idea to notify the post office of your new address. This gives you "double insurance" that you will get your check promptly. This will permit the post office to forward your check, if there should be a delay in getting the new address listed on the social security records.

The social security office and the post office will not know where you are living unless you tell them. A letter or a call at the social security office will save you time and worry. Better still, it will get your social security check to you at the right time. But remember, any written notice to social security about a new address should contain, in addition

TO THE PEOPLE OF BEAT 5

My main regret in not getting the majority vote for Supervisor is that I disappointed you who worked so hard in my behalf, even though I too exerted every effort possible.

Surely your decision to stand up and vote your own convictions against tremendous opposition and concerted persuasion is most praise worthy.

To the Victor, I hope he realizes that I have been devoted to the welfare and betterment of the Community for the past 23 years, and my services for the good of our fellow citizens are at my disposal. To his supporters I hold no ill feelings or malice as I fully respect your rights and wishes under our American Democratic system. You did him a wonderful job.

I thank all of you for the consideration shown me, especially those of you who helped me.

I ask all my followers to join with me in congratulating the elected Officials, and under their guidance, may we have a very wonderful and prosperous future four years.

Sincerely

Higher hard to predict about fishing with tide conditions. One day they are high and the next low due to the change of tides. Green trout have been late in the evening, but some showers of the past few days hampered fishing to some extent. Speckle trout fishing has been hot lately. A few crabs were caught on low tide at night and flounders are still being caught on rising tides and on the mud flats at the mouth of Jordan River. Hard crabs are still giving good.

Among the trophy winners after the completion of race week for the sailing classes at the Bay-Walton Yacht Club were Helen Johnson, Sally McCandless, and Steve Pindexter. Among the expert sailors who will represent the club at the Lipton Regatta Labor Day week-end in New Orleans are Chuck Breath and Mr. Joe Chamberlain.

The expert sailors of our local Yacht Club are among the best and we hope them the best of luck.

Saw a couple of stone crabs last week. They were caught in local waters. If you haven't seen a stone crab, they are harder than our local crabs, stockier body and have much harder claws and full of meat and exceptionally good eating. According to information from our friend Capt. Fudge, a chief engineer on ocean going liners, stone crabs are found mostly at Miami, Florida, and in Biscayne Bay. Joe's Stone Crab Restaurant at Miami specializes on serving stone crabs and is known the country over.

Stone crabs are a rarity in local waters but a few are caught frequently.

G. L. Bourassa of New Orleans is maintenance man for the St. Bernard General Hospital at Chalmette, La. G. L. loves his fishing and goes every chance he gets.

Dr. Emile Bertucci has been at his home near Fenton on a week's vacation. Doc has been enjoying fishing with friends and his boys and made a successful trip with August Rauxet to Chandeleur Island and out at the marshes. He loves any kind of fishing and gets his share of all kinds of fish.

Hugh C. Sanford, local Soil Conservation Agent is usually busy advising farmers and others on the finer points of soil conservation, building of farm ponds and soil conservation in general. Hugh, a sportsman, but his real hobby is reading and working with American Legion and V. F. W. Veterans.

C. M. Dunnann is also with the Soil Conservation Service. His sport is fox hunting and he is the only one in Hancock County who raises and trains fox hounds. He tells some interesting stories regarding fox hunting. One of his dogs recently won first place in the South Mississippi fox hunting contest at Waynesboro, Miss., in April. To us, fox hunting might not be an exciting sport but to owners of the dogs it's music to their ears when they hear the howling of their dogs on a fox's trail. John Mollere and Dr. Goss were two other noted fox hunters of this section.

It's getting to be a regular weekly sight to see Red Reinike and Harry Favre up Pearl River after green trout. Both are fly fishermen and are getting better all the time. Jack Garriga also gets his share.

Seems like August Rauxet and son Nicky are getting to be real deep sea fishermen. They tied in to two tarpon and a couple of sharks on the last trip out.

Perre Quintini and young truly caught a nice bunch of fresh water fish up Pearl River way. Sunday they were hitting rather late in the evening said Perre.

According to ducks already seen it looks like a good season is ahead for this year. It's a little early however, but the ducks have started to come down.

The split season on doves will open next month. Hope they will be more plentiful this year.

Alfred Cospelich has returned from a few days well-earned vacation. Alfred is well known as a boat builder and repairman. His ship yard is out Main Street on Joe's Bayou called by that name after his late father Joe Cospelich who operated the place for many years. For those who don't know, most of our bayous are called by adopted names of former residents but really had Indian names, such as Joe's Bayou, Watt's Bayou, Mallini's Bayou, Breath's Bayou, etc.

Our picture this week is of Laurent Kergosein, a local real estate man, hunter and fisherman. Laurant is a fly fishing enthusiast and goes fishing on every occasion. Years ago he started fishing at the old Kergosein place on Rotten Bayou and can tell some stories of how they used to do it. Too bad business has to interfere with fishing he said.

The Sports Trail

BY MICHAEL LANG

Playoffs are over for another year and again Southern Realty steps into the spotlight with another play-off championship. Southern Realty just a few weeks ago took the league championship. They were also in the state championship finals and only lost out by a nose. It's not surprising that Southern Realty is a very good team; they have the material, experience, and know how which makes a good team.

Second place in the play-offs, Reinike's Dirt Dobbers, who in the first part of the season weren't doing so hot, came up in the last part to make good showing. Reinike's have that certain something that makes every other team look nervous when they walk out on the playing field. They also played a good play-off.

Going on down to third place is Industrial. Industrial made a good showing in the play-offs and during the season. I for one, didn't think they had a chance for the play-offs but I made a mistake too.

And moving down to fourth place is Trapani's sort of a surprise, but it's true. Trapani's led the league during most of the season and wound up in third place for the season. You can't offer an explanation, because these are things that no one can know about. Only that Trap will be in there new year ready to go to get back on top.

"So, that was the play-offs and those are the teams, all the games are over for the year. Maybe they won't be the same because next year it's liable to be all together different - but it'll be the amusement everyone likes, those who like softball, and enjoy it.

The preceding was about the teams, but let's take a look at some of the players who made a good showing through the season. Ronnie Arigues, Southern Realty, Donald Caldwell, Southern Realty, Billy Breland, Trapani's, Glen Blaine and Henry Monti, also of Trapani's, Buddy Pitalo, Reinike's, Jerry Seuzeneau and Bob Noto both Roland's Signs, and Doni Saucier and Nodie Ladner of the good team.

These players made very excellent showings all through the season and shouldn't go by without some recognition.

I guess by now, all the hunters know about the new game laws that will go into effect this fall when the season formally open. I thought it was the best thing to happen to the duck season since ducks. The hunting season is just around the corner so if you haven't started cleaning the shooting iron yet you had better get moving so that you'll be ready.

St John's in Lakesore will hold their annual Church Fair this Saturday and Sunday August 31, and September 1, featured at the fair will be dinners, sandwiches, soft drinks, cakes, candy, and various booths, games and a shooting match.

FULBRIGHT SCHOLAR—Thomas T. Bradshaw of Crystal Springs, a 1963 graduate of the University of Mississippi, has been awarded a Fulbright Scholarship to study chemistry at Technical University of Munich, Germany. In addition to his chemistry studies, Bradshaw plans to do research on tritium isotopes (radio active isotopes of hydrogen). Here, he conducts an experiment in an Ole Miss chemistry laboratory.

used for the ryegrass winter pasture. Heavy calves over the same period had returned $22 per calf or $20 per acre.

But the 1962-63 winter was different. Zero weather killed all the above-ground growth on December 13 and sustained cold in January prevented recovery. The calves were fed from December 29 through April 11 when they were sold. When cost of feed was added to money spent for winter grazing crops, losses were evident. Light calves lost $5.50 each or $11 per acre; heavy calves lost $20 each or $41 per acre.

B. I. Arnold, Station agronomist, is not discouraged. He says, "In North Mississippi, well-fertilized, well managed winter pasture of ryegrass for the grazing of lightweight calves, has been one of the most profitable aspects of the beef cattle business, and at the same time has provided a profitable way to use some of the poorest acres on the farm. It is not the complete answer for all feed problems; it won't fit every farm, but on those farms where it will fit it is as attractive as ever."

NEW GENERATION OF FARMERS

Mississippi's 11,000 Future Farmers, who are all members of vocational agriculture schools, promise to make an enormous contribution to the development and improvement of the state's agriculture. The diversity and quality of farm training the FFA youngsters are getting was illustrated at the recent state FFA convention in Jackson, where teams and groups of these farm students participated in more than a dozen separate agricultural activities and judging contests.

The competition included dairy production, livestock farming, corn production, soil testing, soil and water management, woodland improvement, farm safety, tractor operation and maintenance, cooperation on the farm and public speaking. These fine farm boys are receiving scientific training in almost every phase of modern farming.

The FFA youngsters represent a new and better trained generation of farmers. They will do much to help build a more productive and profitable agriculture in the Magnolia State.

TRAFFIC DEATH RATE SHOWS BRISK UPSURGE ON MISSISSIPPI CHARTS

A sizeable increase in the number of traffic fatalities is reflected in official statistics for the first half of 1963 issued by the Mississippi Highway Patrol's accident records bureau. Traffic deaths in urban areas increased from 25 to 41 for the first six months for an increase of 61 percent; deaths on country roads increased from 48 to 77 for a gain of 60 percent; and on state highways from 161 to 188 for a 17 percent increase.

T. B. Birdsong, Commissioner of Public Safety deserves fullest support from Mississippi motorists in his announced intensification of selective law enforcement which includes wider use of radar and roadblocks.

Our efficient, hardworking Patrol cannot be expected to solve this problem on its own. The help of every driver must be forthcoming if Mississippi's traffic record is to show any marked improvement during the balance of 1963.

SEEDLINGS AVAILABLE TO STATE LANDOWNERS

According to State Forester Jack Holman, the Mississippi Forestry Commission is growing fifteen different species of three seedlings for distribution to Mississippi landowners. The species that will be available for this planting season are slash, loblolly, longleaf and shortleaf pines, bald cypress, cottonwood, green ash, yellow poplar, black locust, sycamore, sweet gum, red cedar, cherrybark, oak, Arizona cypress and tupelo gum.

The area forester can furnish the name and location of the nurseryman who will furnish the seedlings. Although the nurserymen will not be lifting and shipping seedlings until some time in December, the landowner should not delay in placing his application, for all applications will have to be processed and schedules worked out before shipments of seedlings can be made.

Orders of pine species must be in even thousands. Orders of species other than pine must be in even five hundreds or even thousands. By paying the delivery charge, the purchaser will receive his seedlings delivered to the county designated by the landowner. The area forester will notify him when the seedlings will arrive.

SEVERE WEATHER BRINGS LOSS IN GRAZING TESTS

STATE COLLEGE: - Over the years winter grazing for steers can be expected to produce a profit in Mississippi, but last winter showed how severe weather can change profit to loss.

Typical of many farm experiences is the record at the North Mississippi Branch Experiment Station at Holly Springs. Here for the past three previous years light calves had averaged making a profit of $42 each, or $71 per acre.

Nice Things Happen to Systematic Savers

Ever notice how it is with some families? They always seem to have the money to go off on the most exciting vacation trips, buy and furnish the nicest homes, give their children the best educations. Often the answer is not to be found in the size of their income, but in what they DO with it! By systematically saving part of it, they manage to have "what it takes" to enjoy the best things of life. If they save here (as many do) where their money earns interest.
